September 2023

Dear Friends,

This guide is made available to assist ministers, consistories, classes, and regional synods in understanding the promises made under Formulary No. 5 of the Reformed Church in America's Book of Church Order (BCO) and to provide information about the resources that are available through the Board of Benefits Services (BOBS). A digital copy of this guide is available at www.rca.org/airb.

As we continue to enhance this guide, it can be an effective training tool for new employees and treasurers who are responsible for benefits administration. It is also an excellent resource for those who are already familiar with the plans and requirements.

We don't expect you to be an expert on insurance and retirement benefits, but we do hope that you will read this information and find this resource helpful throughout the year.

If you have a question, please contact one of us at the Board of Benefits Services. It is what we do: serving those who serve. You will find our contact information in Section 10.

Sincerely,

This guide highlights the primary aspects of the benefit plans sponsored by The Board of Benefits Services of the Reformed Church in America, Inc. (BOBS). Full details are contained in the legal plan documents. If there is any discrepancy or conflict between the plan documents and the information presented here, or on the website, the plan documents will govern. BOBS reserves the right to modify, amend, or terminate any benefit plan or practices described in this guide at any time.

Section 1: General Benefits Requirements

As stated in the Book of Church Order (BCO), a consistory shall fulfill the provisions of the call form (Formulary No. 5) for all ministers serving the church under call or contract by paying the stipulated contributions to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program. In addition, consistories must “provide benefits including group life insurance, long-term disability insurance, and medical insurance” for a minister (under call or contract) and their immediate family (BCO Appendix, Formulary No. 5). If the minister and their family elect medical coverage through a spouse’s employer-sponsored group plan, the church must compensate the minister for “any medical premium costs incurred by [the pastor’s] immediate family, up to the premium cost of the Reformed Benefits Association plan meeting the minimum standards stipulated for the year compensated” (BCO Appendix, Formulary No. 5). These stipulations apply equally to full-time and part-time ministers.

There are, however, a few exceptions to this general rule. Chapter 1, Part I, Article 2, Section 7 of the BCO states that “a consistory shall fulfill the provisions of the call form (Appendix, Formulary No. 5) for retirement and insurance for all ministers serving the church under call or contract unless (a) regarding retirement, the minister is covered by the retirement plan sponsored by the Regional Synod of Canada or the retirement plan of the communion where the minister’s membership is held, (b) the classis determines that the minister is serving the church part-time, as defined by the Board of Benefits Services, and that circumstances warrant that the consistory be exempt from this requirement, or (c) the minister is serving less than part-time as defined by the Board of Benefits Services” (2023 edition, p. 15).

It is helpful to know what benefits an RCA-ordained Minister of Word and Sacrament is entitled to, whether you are a congregation or an eligible employer that provides the benefits, an RCA-ordained Minister of Word and Sacrament who receives benefits, or a classis that assures that the provisions of the call form are fulfilled. The following “Benefits Cheat Sheet” provides you with various examples for each situation. The first examples highlight benefits for ordained Ministers of Word and Sacrament, and the later entries represent Commissioned Pastors and other special cases.

The benefits requirements depend on a few factors:

1. Employer type: RCA church, Formula of Agreement church, or other eligible employer

2. Minister type: RCA-ordained Minister of Word and Sacrament or RCA-ordained Minister of Word and Sacrament in a Formula of Agreement church
3. Employment status: full-time or part-time

Benefits Cheat Sheet

1. RCA Minister of Word and Sacrament: serving (call or contract) an RCA church, classis, regional synod, or eligible employer full-time
 - » RCA 403(b) Retirement Program: at least 11 percent of compensation or effective buying power per household (EBPH), whichever is greater
 - » Group life insurance: ministers not enrolled in life insurance through the Reformed Benefits Association (RBA) will be automatically enrolled in a plan administered by BOBS

Churches and other eligible employers may enroll in benefits through the RBA or pay for the cost of comparable coverage for eligible ministers. If the minister and his/her family elect medical coverage through a spouse's employer-sponsored group plan, the church will compensate for "any medical premium costs incurred by [the pastor's] immediate family, up to the premium cost of the Reformed Benefits Association plan meeting the minimum standards stipulated for the year compensated" (BCO Appendix, Formulary No. 5). These stipulations apply equally to full-time and part-time ministers.

6. Formula of Agreement Minister serving an RCA congregation

Treasurer or Administrator Contact Information

Churches and other employers are responsible to ensure that BOBS has the name and contact information of the current treasurer and/or benefits administrator of the organization at all times.

We are aware that there may be frequent turnover of treasurers. If you are the person making contributions through Fidelity's online contribution remittance system—Simplified Contribution Platform (SCP)—and are leaving your position, please be sure to contact SCP Help (scphelp@fmr.com or call 800-917-4369) to have the new person enrolled as a user or administrator. Also, immediately notify BOBS with the name, email address, and phone number of the new person fulfilling this role. BOBS will update our records and Fidelity's records. Simply send an email to retirement@rca.org stating that there has been a change and list the new contact person's name, phone number, and email address.

It is important to inform BOBS as soon as possible, especially if the departing treasurer or administrator is set up to remit retirement contributions online to Fidelity. The new contact person must be registered as a SCP user in order to continue remitting the contributions. More information about SCP can be found near the end of Section 2.

It is also important that group life, long-term disability, and medical insurance premiums continue to be paid in a timely manner to avoid the termination of coverage.

Section 2: RCA 403(b) Retirement Program

Retirement Contribution Requirements

The contribution amount payable to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account of eligible full-time ministers must be at least the amount of the effective buying power per household (EBPH) or 11 percent of eligible pay, whichever is greater.

The EBPH amount represents the minimum amount of employer basic contributions that should be made on behalf of ministers working full-time, prorated over the number of months worked in a calendar year. This amount is established annually by the Board of Benefits Services (BOBS) and is updated based on the national median earnings provided by the U.S. Department of Labor’s Bureau of Labor Statistics. The EBPH annual amount for 2024 is $8,236.

The EBPH amount does not apply for part-time ministers. The annual employer basic contribution required for a part-time minister’s RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account is calculated as 11 percent of the eligible pay of the minister.

The “compensation” is the total amount of base salary, wages, or other payments paid to a minister, including any employee contributions to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program. It also includes the housing allowance designation and any taxable compensation added for ministers who are purchasing medical insurance for themselves and their families through a private insurance company, through a federal or state marketplace, or through the spouse’s employer-sponsored group plan. It does not include any office allowance, vehicle allowance, education assistance allowance, bonus, or self-employment tax contributions (SECA) that are provided to assist with Social Security and Medicare tax obligations.

Eligible pay is defined as 100 percent of compensation if a parsonage is not provided. If a parsonage is provided, eligible pay is defined as 140 percent of compensation (actual compensation is grossed up by 40 percent; the contribution is then calculated as 11 percent of the 140 percent of compensation).

An RCA 403(b) Retirement Program contribution calculator is available on the Board of Benefits Services website: www.rca.org/benefits/retirement/contribution-limits.

Retirement Contribution Examples

Following are a few examples of how the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program contributions should be calculated for ministers who own or rent a home, and for ministers who are provided with a parsonage.

Note: These calculations are based on the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program plan document, which requires that contributions “must be at least the amount of the EBPH or 11 percent of compensation, whichever is greater”. The EBPH does not apply to part-time participants (see definition of part-time in Section 5). The complete plan document is available at www.rca.org/retirement or directly at www.rca.org/403b.

For ministers who own or rent their home

Example 1: A full-time minister who will work a full year in 2024. The minister will receive $75,000 in compensation, of which $15,000 is designated as housing allowance.

- The eligible pay is $75,000 ($60,000 taxable income + $15,000 designated as housing allowance)
- The calculated contribution is $8,250 ($75,000 eligible pay x 11 percent contribution rate)
- The EBPH amount for 2024 is $8,236
- The required church contribution is $8,250 (the greater of the EBPH and the 11 percent calculated contribution)

Example 2: A full-time minister who will work a full year in 2024. The minister will receive $40,000 in compensation, of which $10,000 is designated as housing allowance.

- The eligible pay is $40,000 ($30,000 taxable income + $10,000 designated as housing allowance)
- The calculated contribution is $4,400 ($40,000 eligible pay x 11 percent contribution rate)
- The EBPH amount for 2024 is $8,236
- The required church contribution is $8,236 (the greater of the EBPH and the 11 percent calculated contribution)

Example 3: A full-time minister who will work six months in 2024, with a start date of July 1, 2024. The minister will receive $40,000 in compensation for the six-month period, of which $7,500 is designated as housing allowance.

- The eligible pay from July to December is $40,000 ($32,500 taxable income + $7,500 designated as housing allowance)
- The calculated contribution for the period from July to December is $4,400 ($40,000 eligible pay x 11 percent contribution rate)
- The six-month, prorated EBPH amount for 2024 is $4,118
- The required church contribution for the six-month period is $4,400 (the greater of the prorated EBPH and the prorated 11 percent calculated contribution)

Example 4: A full-time minister who will work six months in 2024, with a start date of July 1, 2024. The minister will receive $20,000 in compensation for the six-month period, of which $5,000 is designated as housing allowance.

- The eligible pay from July to December is $20,000 ($15,000 taxable income + $5,000 designated as housing allowance)

- The six-month, prorated EBPH amount for 2024 is $4,118
- The required church contribution for the six-month period is $4,118 (the greater of the prorated EBPH and the prorated 11 percent calculated contribution)

Example 5: A part-time minister who will work a full year in 2024.

The minister will receive $45,000 in compensation, of which $10,000 is designated as housing allowance.

- The eligible pay is $45,000 ($35,000 taxable income + $10,000 designated as housing allowance)
- The calculated contribution is $4,950 ($45,000 eligible pay x 11 percent contribution rate)
- The required church contribution is $4,950
- EBPH is not applicable because of the part-time status

For ministers who are provided with a parsonage

Example 1: A full-time minister who will work a full year in 2024.

The minister will receive $55,000 in compensation, of which $5,000 is designated as housing allowance, and will be provided with a parsonage.

- The eligible pay is $77,000 ($55,000 + ($55,000 x 40 percent gross up for the parsonage))

- The eligible pay from July to December is $42,000 ($$30,000 + ($30,000 \times 40 \text{ percent gross up for the parsonage})$)
- The calculated contribution is $4,620 ($$42,000 \text{ eligible pay} \times 11 \text{ percent contribution rate}$)
- The six-month, prorated EBPH amount for 2024 is $4,118
- The required church contribution is $4,620 (the greater of the EBPH and the 11 percent calculated contribution)

- The required church contribution is $5,390
- EBPH is not applicable because of the part-time status

Employee Contributions

All participants are encouraged to make pre-tax salary reduction contributions to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program through payroll deduction. Research says to save about 15 percent of your annual income for retirement. The longer one waits to start saving, the greater percentage of income they will need to save as they get older.

To get started saving through pre-tax employee contributions or to change your current contribution amount, log in to your account online at www.netbenefits.com/atwork

1. Click on the account balance.
2. Click the RCA 403(b) Quick Links drop down menu
3. Click "Contribution Amount"

4. Click “Contribution Amount and Catch-up Contributions”
5. Make your salary deferral contribution elections
6. Click “Change Contribution Amount”

Fidelity will transmit your salary deferral election to BOBS, who will report your election(s) to your treasurer or administrator.

Contribution Limits

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has set annual limits on the contributions that may be made to a participant’s RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account. It is important that churches and other employers monitor the employer and employee contributions so they do not exceed the statutory limits set by the IRS. There are three types of limits that the IRS adjusts each year to reflect cost of living increases:

- A limit on employee elective salary deferrals—the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 402(g) Elective Deferral Limit
 - » This limit applies to all salary reduction contributions (including designated Roth contributions) to 401(k) and 403(b) plans combined
 - » The annual limit for 2023 is $22,500
- There is also a special rule that allows participants who are age 50 or older to make additional salary reduction or Roth contributions. The contribution is subject to IRC Section 414(v) Age 50 Catch Up Limit
 - » This limit is in addition to the employee elective deferral limit
 - » The annual limit for 2023 is $7,500
- An overall limit on all employee and employer contributions to a participant’s account. This is subject to the IRC Section 415(c) limit and applies to the total of:
 - » elective salary deferrals (but not catch-up contributions)
 - » employer matching contributions
 - » employer nonelective contributions
 - » allocations of forfeitures
 - » the annual limit for 2023 is the lesser of $66,000 or 100 percent includible compensation

The includible compensation is taxable compensation, plus the salary reduction contributions to 401(k) or 403(b) plans, the elective deferrals to section 125 cafeteria plan, the elective deferrals to 457 plans (but not to church nonqualified plans); and the contributions to qualified transportation fringe benefit plans. The taxable compensation does not include any portion of a minister’s compensation that is designated as housing allowance. When the church and minister determine the designated housing allowance, make sure the required annual contributions to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program will not exceed the taxable compensation for the year.

Contribution limits for 2024 will be posted online as soon as the IRS makes them available. For current retirement contribution limits and a calculator specifically designed for churches contributing to an RCA minister's retirement account, visit: www.rca.org/benefits/retirement/contribution-limits

RCA 403(b) Retirement Program Adoption Agreement

The RCA 403(b) Retirement Program is a multiple employer church plan and each employer (church or entity) is required to formally adopt the plan by completing and submitting an Adoption Agreement. By signing the document, an employer confirms its intention to participate in and comply with the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program.

The Adoption Agreement is a legal document that is required for compliance purposes. It also provides each employer some flexibility to customize retirement benefits for its employees. This customization could include addressing eligibility requirements to enroll lay employees, offering matching contributions for certain employees, or documenting vesting schedules for optional contributions, etc.

If the church or entity does not have an Adoption Agreement, or the Adoption Agreement on file is no longer accurate, the church or entity should download the form at images.rca.org/docs/bobs/AdoptionAgreement.pdf, complete it, and submit it to the Board of Benefits Services. An electronic version of the Adoption Agreement is available upon request through retirement@rca.org. It's a good idea to keep a copy of the completed Adoption Agreement on file for the employer's record. If the treasurer or administrator is not sure about the status of the Adoption Agreement, contact the BOBS office at 866-221-5480 or email us at retirement@rca.org and we can assist you.

Retirement Contribution Remittance

Churches and other employers must use Fidelity's Simplified Contribution Platform (SCP) (<https://contribution.appiancloud.com/suite/>) to make contributions to their employees' RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account. After setting up the bank information, only a few clicks are needed to finish each contribution request. Automated reminders and reporting functions help the church or employer to keep track of the payment schedule.

- New User Access: If your church or employer already has a SCP account and needs to set up a new user, please provide the contact information to Fidelity through the online request form: <https://fidelityinvestments.tfaforms.net/660093>. Fidelity will send the user a temporary password and tutorial guide to help configure the system. The username will be the user's email address, so it is important to make sure you have access to the email account.
- Setting up an account: If your church or employer does not have a SCP account, contact BOBS via email at retirement@rca.org or call 866-221-5480 for information on setting up an account.
- Questions or troubleshooting: If you have any questions or problems with the SCP system, contact Fidelity's SCP team at 800-917-4369 or SCPHelp@fmr.com.
- Minister or employee serving two churches or employers: When a minister or other employee is serving more than one participating employer and both employers are submitting contributions to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program, the contributions to Fidelity must be coordinated. There are two options:
 - » One employer will remit their contributions through SCP and the other employer must remit their contributions via paper check along with a remittance form. Those churches or employers sending a check should contact BOBS at retirement@rca.org to receive the proper form and instructions for sending checks to Fidelity.
 - » The churches or employers must decide which one of them will remit the contributions to Fidelity through SCP on behalf of the minister. One employer will need to remit the contributions for both employers and then seek reimbursement from the other employer. The division code for the remitting employer using SCP will be documented in the minister's Fidelity record.

Contribution Verification and Retirement Security Form

Each year, the Board of Benefits Services (BOBS) works to verify that RCA-ordained ministers receive the correct amount of contribution to their retirement account in accordance with the terms of the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program document and the Book of Church Order.

The necessary information for BOBS to perform this annual review is collected as part of the annual Consistorial Report Form (CRF), through the Retirement Security Form (RSF) sub-section of the CRF.

The RSF should be completed for each RCA-ordained minister and any lay employees who participate in the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program at your church. The information is kept confidential and only accessed by the BOBS staff.

The information that BOBS needs to perform this review is:

- Total compensation paid to the minister, including the portion designated as housing allowance, if any
- Amount of salary designated as housing allowance, if any
- Indication if parsonage was provided
- Work status: either full time or part time (see definition of part-time in Section 5)

Once the CRF is closed, BOBS reviews the submitted compensation information and verifies that the proper amount of church contribution was paid into the minister's RCA 403(b) account. Any contribution shortfalls are communicated to the church treasurer and minister along with a request for payment from the church.

It is extremely important that churches take the time to complete the RSF so BOBS can verify that the proper amount of retirement contribution was paid to the minister's account.

RCA Retirement Plan Reallocation

Since 2015, the Board of Benefits Services has been offering eligible participants the opportunity to reallocate funds from their RCA Retirement Plan account to their RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account.

Eligibility and the amount that can be reallocated each year is determined by BOBS in accordance with the IRS annual contribution limits, IRS regulations, and the participant's RCA-related taxable earnings within the last five calendar years.

For more information about the RCA Retirement Plan reallocation, please check our FAQs at www.rca.org/reallocation.

Section 3: Distribution Options

RCA retirement plan distribution options

The following is an outline of a participant's distribution options under each retirement plan when a participant has accumulated retirement savings.

RCA Retirement Plan #72175:

- To begin taking distributions from the RCA Retirement Plan, contact the Board of Benefits Services at 866-221-5480. Upon retirement (for RCA-ordained ministers) and termination (for lay employee and non-RCA ordained ministers), participants are provided with an RCA Retirement Plan Distribution Form to elect retirement/termination benefits (systematic withdrawals, lump sums in certain cases). This election must begin immediately upon retirement or termination and is irrevocable.
- Upon reaching the age of 59½, a participant may elect to receive up to a maximum of 5 percent annually of their account balance as of December 31 of the year prior to the year in which the withdrawal is to be made. Once elected, the initial distribution will be immediate and subsequent distributions will be calculated based on the same percentage and processed by March 1 of each year. This is optional, irrevocable, and in addition to mandatory systematic withdrawals upon retirement.
- Upon reaching the age of 59½, RCA-ordained ministers may request a one-time lump sum payment of up to 10 percent for the purpose of buying a residence. The proof of intention of a home purchase is required.
- While the purchase of annuities with funds from the RCA Retirement Plan is an option in the plan document, the purchase of annuities in the name of the board is suspended through December 2025. If a participant wants to purchase an annuity with their funds from the RCA Retirement Plan, the purchase would require a fully taxable distribution with which the participant can then purchase an annuity in their name.

There are no IRS-required minimum distributions under this plan, but distributions must begin at retirement or termination and cannot be changed thereafter.

For more details, visit the RCA Retirement Plan distribution options webpage at www.rca.org/retirementplandistributions.

RCA 403(b) Retirement Program #72433

Upon retirement (for RCA-ordained ministers) and termination (for lay employees and non-RCA ordained ministers), participants can contact Fidelity Investments at 800-343-0860 or by accessing their online account at www.netbenefits.com to:

- Request systematic withdrawals (monthly, quarterly, or annually)
- Purchase a commercial life annuity
- Take a general loan or home loan
- Rollover your money to another eligible retirement plan (e.g., IRA, 403(b), 410(k))

Participants are not required to withdraw funds until the age designated by the IRS. The IRS requires that participants withdraw a minimum amount annually upon reaching the age of 73 (or 70½ if you were born before July 1, 1949). Participants must take the Required Minimum Distributions (RMDs) by April 1 of the year after they turn 73 and then must take another RMD by December 31 of the same year and each year after that. Participants should proactively contact Fidelity to set up their RMD payments. If a participant is due for an RMD but has not taken enough distributions for the year, Fidelity will calculate the RMD amount and automatically issue the payment by the end of the year.

For more details, visit the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program distributions options webpage at www.rca.org/403bdistributions

Beneficiaries and account transfer upon death

The disposition of your retirement plan account(s) is done according to your wishes, per your beneficiary form and the rules per each plan. If you are married, by default, your spouse is your primary beneficiary at 100 percent. If you wish to name a primary beneficiary other than or in addition to your spouse, you must complete the spousal consent form with your spouse's notarized signature. Upon your death, a spousal beneficiary's options vary depending on the plan:

- For the RCA Retirement Plan: BOBS must refer to your most current beneficiary form for your beneficiary designations. If you had already begun taking distributions at the time of your death, your beneficiary(ies) will continue the payment plan, i.e., receive the same amount at the same frequency. If distributions had not yet begun, then your beneficiary(ies) will be required to take a full payout or make a distribution election to begin immediately. The election is irrevocable.
- For the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program: The spousal beneficiary and non-spousal beneficiary(ies) may receive a full payout or a spousal beneficiary may join the plan. In this case, a spousal beneficiary account will be opened in his or her name, and the assets from your account will be transferred to his or her beneficiary account. The spousal beneficiary will have all the same rights and privileges, except for housing allowance.

Keeping beneficiaries up to date: Please be sure you have completed a beneficiary form for your plan(s) and have them on file. The best way to ensure that your beneficiaries are paid out in a timely manner is to complete and/or update your beneficiary information by accessing your account online at www.netbenefits.com/atwork or by calling Fidelity Investments at 800-343-0860 to request the beneficiary forms, completing it, and returning it to Fidelity at the address listed on the form. Be sure to fill out the beneficiary information completely with the legal name of the beneficiary(ies) and include their SSN(s), date(s) of birth, and address(es). It is a good practice to review your beneficiaries every couple of years.

Section 4: Medical and Other Insurance

Medical Insurance

Group medical insurance is available through the Reformed Benefits Association (RBA). The RBA is a nonprofit corporation established by The Board of Benefits Services of the Reformed Church in America, Inc., and the Christian Reformed Church in North America. Churches and other eligible employers may enroll in benefits through the RBA or pay for the cost of comparable coverage for eligible ministers. More information about the RBA and the products they offer can be found at www.reformedbenefits.org.

The RBA offers three medical insurance plans for its members: the Premium plan, the Consumer plan, and the Surest plan. In addition, they offer group dental and vision, group and supplemental life, and a variety of ancillary insurance products.

Open enrollment through the RBA will be held October 23–November 3, 2023. Coverage for those who enroll will begin on January 1, 2024. The RBA will be sending information regarding open enrollment in October.

When considering a severance package for a departing minister who is enrolled in medical insurance through the RBA, please be aware that the RBA medical plan does not allow insurance continuation as part of a severance agreement. If a church wants to provide medical insurance to the minister, the minister should enroll in COBRA; the church can either pay the RBA directly or provide the minister with a cash amount (this is considered taxable income). However, if a minister is terminating at one church, but is waiting for a call, they can remain on the RBA medical insurance for up to three months providing the church pays the premiums directly. Also, if a minister enrolled in medical insurance through the RBA retires before age 65, there may be options to stay on the plan as an “early retiree.” Please contact the RBA for more information.

Churches are not able to use standard reimbursement practices if a minister purchases medical insurance through a private insurance company, through the marketplace, through Medicare, or through a spouse’s employer-sponsored plan. Any funds provided directly to a pastor to cover medical insurance must be considered taxable income. Churches and ministers may participate in a third party ICHRA (Individual Coverage Health Reimbursement Arrangement) to reimburse ministers for coverage purchased through the marketplace.

As required in the BCO, if the minister and their family elect medical coverage through a spouse's employer-sponsored group plan, the church must compensate the minister for any medical premium costs incurred by their immediate family, up to the medical premium cost of the RBA plan meeting the minimum standards as stipulated for the year compensated.

Medicare

Ministers working under call or contract, age 65 and older, and enrolled in Medicare, should also enroll in a supplement/advantage plan in order meet the minimum standards requirement for medical insurance. If the church does not directly pay the premiums, any funds provided to the pastor will count as taxable income.

For more information, on-demand workshops, and videos about understanding the basics of Medicare, visit our medicare resource section on this page: <https://www.rca.org/benefits/financial-health/retirement/>.

For one-on-one support with understanding Medicare, contact Dan Sarkipato at 269-808-1069 or dansarkipato1@gmail.com.

Help Finding a Plan

The Reformed Benefits Association has partnered with Holmes Murphy and Group Benefits Ltd. (GBL) to offer a simple and personalized insurance resource. This could be helpful for those individuals working less than part time or whose church may not be able to afford medical benefits for their pastor. For more information, call 800-640-7382 or email sanderson@grpbenltd.com and mention Holmes Murphy.

Minimum Standards for Medical Insurance

Formulary No. 5 states, "Such insurance coverages shall meet or exceed the minimum standards stipulated by the Board of Benefits Services." The minimum standard of coverage established by the Board of Benefits Services (BOBS) will be met by offering coverage that approximates the consumer plan, as offered by the RBA.

The consumer plan carries a coinsurance of 80 percent, an individual, in-network deductible of $2,000 and a family deductible of $4,000. The maximum, in-network, out-of-pocket cost is $5,000 for an individual and $10,000 for a family. Coverage is 80 percent after the deductible has been met and until the out-of-pocket maximum has been reached. Once the out-of-pocket maximum has been met, the plan covers 100 percent of eligible medical expenses.

Churches may not provide Medi-Share, or similar programs, for their minister in lieu of traditional health insurance. Although Medi-Share is Christian-based and encourages participants to live a healthy lifestyle, the government does not recognize these programs as health insurance. They are a bill-sharing service. BOBS is mandated to uphold the requirements set forth by the Book of Church Order (BCO), which requires churches to provide health insurance. Therefore, Medi-Share and similar programs are not suitable alternatives.

Health Savings Account (HSA)

A participant in a high-deductible health plan may establish a health savings account (HSA) that can be funded with pre-tax dollars. This HSA can be established by the employee through a local bank or credit union. Many RCA employers contribute to the HSA accounts of their minister. It is recommended that employers fund no more than half of the HSA annual maximum contribution for an individual or family. An employee may also make pre-tax salary deduction contributions to an HSA up to the annual maximum for an individual or family. For 2024, the IRS has set the maximum contributions to an HSA at $4,150 for a single person and $8,300 for two or more persons enrolled in a qualified plan. Those over age 55 are allowed a catch-up contribution of $1,000 annually.

Married couples with HSA-eligible family coverage will share the contribution limit of $8,300. However, if both spouses have eligible self-only coverage, each spouse may contribute up to $4,150 in separate accounts. If both spouses with family coverage are 55 or older, they must have two health savings accounts, one in each of their names, if they want to contribute an additional $1,000 catch-up contribution.

Employees who are over age 65 and enrolled in Medicare are not eligible to contribute to an HSA. If you work beyond age 65 and defer Medicare, however, you will need to stop contributing to your HSA six months prior to receiving Social Security².

Life and Long-term Disability Insurance

The BCO also requires that churches cover the premiums for group life and long-term disability (LTD) insurance for eligible RCA ministers. Employers must directly pay for the group life and LTD premiums as required by the group plan. In order to not jeopardize the terms of a group plan, ministers cannot pay the premiums through their personal credit card or bank account.

RCA ministers who enroll in medical insurance through the RBA must enroll in the RBA basic life plan. Participants in the RBA may also enroll in supplemental life insurance plans offered through the RBA.

Eligible RCA ministers who work a minimum of 17.5 hours per week are automatically enrolled in the LTD insurance program administered by BOBS. In addition, RCA ministers who do not enroll in life insurance through the RBA are automatically enrolled in the group life insurance plan administered by BOBS. Eligible participants will have the opportunity to enroll in voluntary life plans sponsored by BOBS during open enrollment from November 6–27, 2023.

Part-time ministers who regularly work a minimum of 17.5 hours and no more than 29 hours per week may be exempt from participating in the insurance programs, as stated in the BCO. To apply for an exemption, a waiver of insurance form must be completed and submitted to BOBS. The waiver is available on the RCA website at <http://images.rca.org/docs/bobs/BenefitExemptForm-parttime-minister.pdf> or by contacting BOBS. The waiver must be signed by the minister, the consistory, and the classis. Ministers who work 30 hours per week or more are not eligible to be exempt from group life and LTD insurance.

Ministers without charge can continue to be covered by group life and LTD insurance for 90 days after their last day worked when enrolled in the Lincoln plans through the Board of Benefits Services. The most recent church where a minister without charge served must pay the premium for this extended period. Life insurance, for those enrolled through the RBA, requires that a member is actively working, so life insurance terminates as of the last day worked.

LTD and group life are available to commissioned pastors, as well as non-RCA ordained ministers (except those who are ordained within the CRC, UCC, ELCA, and PC(U.S.A.) denominations) who meet the eligibility requirements.

- More detailed information regarding the life and LTD insurance programs offered through the Board of Benefits Services can be found at www.rca.org/ltd-and-group-life.

- Insurance rates: <https://www.rca.org/benefits/ltd-and-life-calculator/>

Coverage amounts

Group life insurance is a standard coverage of $175,000 up to age 70, at which time it decreases by 50 percent.

Employees may purchase optional life insurance up to $500,000, spouse life insurance up to $250,000, and child life insurance up to $10,000. They must enroll within 31 days of first becoming eligible for benefits or during an annual enrollment period.

Porting or converting

Upon termination or becoming ineligible for participation, participants have the opportunity to convert their group life insurance (or voluntary life insurance, if enrolled) from a group term life insurance policy to an individual life insurance policy with Lincoln Financial. The premiums for an individual policy will be the insurance company's rate for coverage and is typically much higher than that of a group plan, but will remain the same throughout the life of the policy. Members enrolled in voluntary term life insurance (who are not losing coverage due to retirement) also have the option to continue their group term life insurance with Lincoln Financial through portability. The premiums are typically lower than conversion, however they may increase at the discretion of Lincoln Financial. When members become ineligible for insurance, BOBS will send a termination letter including instructions for contacting Lincoln Financial to discuss continuation options and insurance costs. Members must submit a completed conversion or portability form along with first payment to Lincoln within 31 days of their insurance being terminated, so it is important to notify the classis and BOBS when a call/contract ends.

Those enrolled in life insurance through the RBA should contact the RBA for conversion or porting information.

Beneficiary designations

Pastors enrolled in group life insurance through BOBS should complete a Lincoln Financial (our current insurance carrier) beneficiary form. It is important to keep beneficiaries up to date as life events such as marriage, the birth of children, or death may change how you wish these funds to be paid out. If a beneficiary is not named, the life insurance benefit will be paid according to the policy. You may access the beneficiary form here: www.rca.org/lifebeneficiaryform

Filing a claim

Contact Cineca Anthony at canthony@rca.org or 866-221-5480, option 2, to request a claim form.

Long-Term Disability Insurance and Salary Updates

Long-term disability (LTD) insurance is a critical benefit for ministers who become disabled and are not able to return to work. This income replacement insurance often helps the minister and their family make ends meet while the minister is not able to work due to disability. LTD insurance can replace up to two-thirds of a minister's income with a maximum monthly benefit of $5,000 per month.

To ensure ministers have the proper amount of long-term disability insurance, employers should report any salary changes to BOBS. BOBS requests this information during open enrollment and again through a special mailing each summer. Failure to keep BOBS updated on salary information may impact the LTD payout if a minister becomes disabled. If the salary update is not submitted, then the default salary will be used. For 2024, the default annual salary is $73,218.60. You may use the following link to access our group life and disability salary change form: www.rca.org/lifeandltdsalarychange, or visit www.rca.org/employers.

For more information, contact Cineca Anthony at canthony@rca.org or 866-221-5480, option 2.

Imputed taxes

Per Internal Revenue Code Section 79, employer-paid group life insurance may generate taxable, imputed income. There is an exclusion for the first $50,000 of group life coverage, but anything over $50,000 must be included in income, using the IRS Premium Table rates. More information is available by scrolling down to the Imputed Taxes section on the employer page of the BOBS website (www.rca.org/benefits/employers) and by visiting the IRS webpage: irs.gov/government-entities/federal-state-local-governments/group-term-life-insurance.

Billing and premium payment options

Invoices for the insurance premiums are emailed quarterly to the billing contact on file, allotting 30 days to make a full payment. Although we prefer employers to set up automatic payments via ACH, payment may be submitted via credit card using the payment link listed on the invoice or by mailing a check to our finance department. All payment details are listed on the invoice.

Section 5: Definition of Part-Time Employment

Similar to the requirement that BOBS set the minimum standard for medical insurance for ministers, BOBS is also required to define “part-time employment.”

Because different vendors have varying eligibility requirements, the definition of part time varies based on the product.

- For life and LTD insurance purchased through BOBS, part time is defined as working a minimum of 17.5 hours but not more than 29 hours per week. Those working 30 hours per week or more are considered full time.
- A definition of part time for the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program is anyone working 1 to 29 hours per week; however, consistories are required to make contributions for all ministers serving the church under call or contract. Those working 30 hours or more are considered full time.
- For medical insurance, part time means working a minimum of 20 hours but not more than 29 hours per week. Those working 30 hours per week or more are considered full time.

If insurance is purchased through the RBA, its terms of participation require that any insured member must work a minimum of 20 hours per week. For further information, contact the RBA at 800-701-8992 or at benefits@reformedbenefits.org.

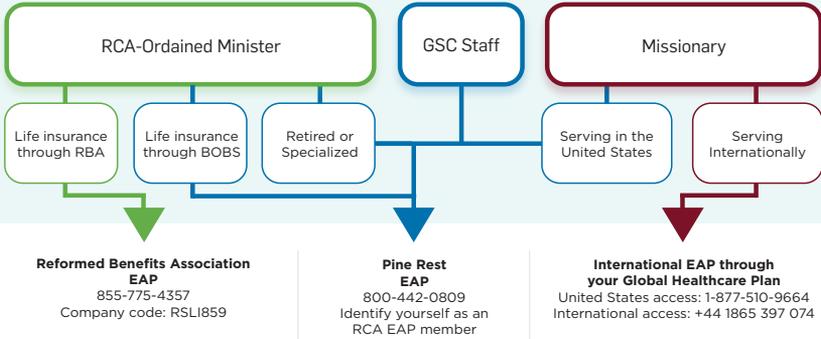

Section 6: Assistance and Grants

Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

RCA-ordained ministers, missionaries, and General Synod Council (GSC) staff are provided free, confidential short-term counseling services through an Employee Assistance Program (EAP). The vendor is different depending on who you are and where your life insurance is provided.

The following diagram will help determine who to call if eligible participants are interested in seeking care. For more detailed information about the specific EAP benefits that you can access, visit www.rca.org/eap.

Who do I contact to access free, confidential counseling services?

Grants Administered by the Board of Benefits Services

- Assistance Fund: Grants given to retired or disabled RCA-ordained ministers and/or their spouses who have depleted their retirement funds and experience a long term or immediate financial need. Lay missionaries with ten or more years of service and former employees of the Southern Normal School are also eligible for grants. Contact: mrich@rca.org
- Ministerial Excellence Fund - Debt Relief: Grants given to active RCA-ordained ministers and RCA commissioned pastors. Eligible participants may apply in February for assistance in paying off many forms of debt. Mortgage debt and tuition for adult children are not considered. Contact: clergygrants@rca.org
- Ministerial Excellence Fund - Retirement Kickstart: Grants given to active RCA-ordained ministers and RCA commissioned pastors. Some pastors have stayed out of debt but have fallen behind in saving for retirement in order to do so. This grant is intended to help those pastors get on track. Eligible participants may apply in February to receive grant funds in their RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account if they increase their own contributions as well. Contact: clergygrants@rca.org
- Ministerial Excellence Fund - Clergy Revitalization Grant: Grants given to active RCA-ordained ministers and RCA commissioned pastors. Up to $3,000 grants given to assist clergy and congregations to have a three-week mini-sabbatical for rest and revitalization. Eligible participants may apply in February. Contact: clergygrants@rca.org

- Bless Your Pastor: Grants given to active RCA-ordained ministers and RCA commissioned pastors. Churches, assemblies, individual donors, or pastors may apply for up to $2,000 in matching funds to pay down student loans or medical debt for their pastor (or for themselves if the grant recipient is providing the matching funds). Eligible participants may apply from October through December. Contact: clergygrants@rca.org
- Frank Williams Fund: Grants given to active RCA-ordained ministers for unexpected medical expenses. This grant requires a match from the church or classis. Grant funds cannot be used for medical expenses of family members. Applications accepted year-round. Contact: clergygrants@rca.org

Section 7: Participating in Social Security and Medicare

The General Synod of 1996 directed the general secretary to inform newly ordained ministers that it is their responsibility to fully participate in the Social Security system (Minutes of General Synod 1996, pp. 304-6). The report from General Synod states the following reasons for not opting out:

- The Reformed tradition views government as a necessary means by which order is preserved.
- According to John Calvin, paying taxes is one way that citizens exercise their duty to the government and thus to one another.
- Those who would offer a conscientious objection to public insurance need to deal with the reality that, in modern society, the care of widows, orphans, and the elderly depends on established government programs.
- A minister of Calvinist persuasion will, it would seem, face a very difficult assignment if he or she is called before the IRS to give an account of his or her specific “religious considerations.”
- If your opt-out decision was challenged by the IRS, no one in the official denominational structure will be able to support your view.

Section 8: Preparing to Retire

Retirement is an exciting event. To help remove some of the anxiety from this transition, BOBS offers some information, insight, and resources to help ministers and lay participants through the process.

- RCA-ordained ministers: Your first step toward retirement is to notify your classis and have the classis declare you retired

(using the Blue Form). Once your retirement date has been approved by your classis, the clerk should send denominational staff notice of your upcoming retirement. Ministers are also encouraged to notify the BOBS office so that we can keep accurate and up-to-date records. The earliest a minister can be declared retired by classis is age 60 (Book of Church Order [BCO], Chapter 1, Part II, Article 15, Section 13c [2023 edition, p. 58]).

- Lay employees or non-RCA ordained ministers: Your last RCA employer will need to complete a Participant Retirement/Termination Notification Form and return it to the BOBS office. The form is found at images.rca.org/docs/bobs/TerminationandRetirementform.pdf. The treasurer or church administrator can also contact BOBS to request a form.

A few items to consider when making your retirement plans

- Determine the amount you may need to withdraw as a lump sum for immediate needs.
- Budget for the time after you retire to determine how much income you will need from your retirement account(s) on an ongoing monthly, quarterly, or annual basis. While the amount you elect may be changed (RCA 403(b) Retirement Program only), you need to start somewhere: www.fidelity.com/viewpoints/retirement/retirement-and-budgeting

Some helpful resources

- BOBS staff members offer Ready to Retire workshops three times a year. All participants age 55 and over will receive an email with dates and instructions to register each time the workshop is offered.
- Take advantage of the Fidelity retirement planning tools found on NetBenefits by accessing your account online at www.netbenefits.com/atwork.
- Connect with a Fidelity retirement planning expert consultant by calling 800-343-0860.
- Consult a clergy tax expert. It is important to note that all funds rolled out of the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program may not fall under the auspices of the housing allowance letter provided by the Board of Benefits Services, which states that distributions from the RCA Retirement Plan and RCA 403(b) Retirement Program may be declared as housing allowance.
- Financial Planning with Everence: BOBS may be able to subsidize the cost for RCA ministers for a financial planning experience with a financial planning team who are experts in clergy finance. Contact retirement@rca.org for more information.

- Financial Counseling with Lutheran Social Service (LSS): BOBS has partnered with LSS to provide up to six free financial counseling sessions for RCA Ministers of Word and Sacrament, Commissioned Pastors, and any adult in their household. To set up your first session, visit lssmn.org/rca.

Section 9: Ending Employment

Termination and retirement for lay employees

The treasurer, church administrator, or employer contact should complete and send a Retirement/Termination Form to BOBS. The form is found at images.rca.org/docs/bobs/TerminationandRetirementform.pdf. The form can also be available by contacting BOBS at retirement@rca.org.

When a church leaves the RCA

For lay employees

- The RCA 403(b) Retirement Program: If an RCA church leaves the denomination, neither the church nor the lay participant may continue to contribute to the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program. The lay employee will become inactive until they terminate their employment with the church. Any contributions made after the date the church has officially left the denomination must be returned to the church. Once the lay employee stops working for the former RCA employer, they will have full access to their account and may request a payout or a rollover.
- The RCA Retirement Plan: A lay employee, if under age 60, is deemed “terminated.” If the participant is age 60 or older, they are deemed “retired” and, under the plan rules, will be required to elect termination/retirement benefits (full payout if terminated before age 60, or systematic periodic withdrawals). All elections from the RCA Retirement Plan are irrevocable.
- Insurance through BOBS: If the church leaves the denomination, the commissioned pastor or non-RCA ordained minister is no longer eligible to participate in LTD and life insurance through BOBS. Coverage will be terminated and, if applicable, life insurance conversion/portability forms will be sent to the commissioned pastor or non-RCA ordained minister.
- Insurance through the RBA: A lay employee who is enrolled in insurances administered through the RBA should contact the RBA at 616-224-5881 or benefits@reformedbenefits.org to determine their eligibility.

For RCA-ordained ministers

- The RCA 403(b) Retirement Program: An RCA-ordained minister is always active in the plan, and the non-RCA church may continue to contribute to their minister's RCA 403(b) Retirement Program account as long as the minister remains ordained in the RCA. However, the church is no longer required to make basic employer contributions. The RCA minister is not required to participate in the RCA 403(b) Retirement Program while serving a non-RCA church but may do so and may always make salary deferred contributions.
- The RCA Retirement Plan: A minister will remain active in the plan. No action is required until the minister retires.
- Insurance through BOBS: RCA-ordained ministers may continue to participate in LTD and life insurance provided by BOBS as long as they are working a minimum of 20 hours per week and their employer pays insurance premiums.
- Insurance through the RBA: RCA-ordained ministers who are enrolled in insurances administered by the RBA should contact the RBA at 616-224-5881 or benefits@reformedbenefits.org to determine their eligibility.

When an RCA minister transfers their ordination from the RCA and the church leaves the RCA

- The RCA 403(b) Retirement Program: If the minister participant is still working for the same employer (whether an RCA church or not) and there has not been a distributable event, the minister must leave their money in the plan. Should the minister leave that employer, they are deemed "terminated" in the plan and will have full access to their account and may request a payout or a rollover or leave it in the plan until a later date.
- The RCA Retirement Plan: The minister, if under age 60, is deemed "terminated." If the minister is age 60 or older, they are deemed "retired" and, under the plan rules, will be required to elect termination/retirement benefits (full payout if demitted before age 60) or systematic periodic withdrawals. All elections are irrevocable.
- Insurances: Once a minister transfers their ordination out of the RCA, they are no longer eligible to participate in LTD and life insurance provided by BOBS. Their insurance will be terminated immediately. They will have 30 days from the date of termination to convert their insurance and continue it by making payments directly to Lincoln Financial.

If the minister or lay employee is enrolled in insurance provided by the Reformed Benefits Association (RBA), please contact the RBA office for
