Global
Mission

Brad and Robin Kautz

PRAY

- For freedom from alcohol and substance abuse and addiction for the Jicarilla Apache people.
- For the outreach ministry to the jail and student residence.
- That other small churches in the community would join together with JARC in ministry.
- That God would provide sufficient financial support to sustain this ministry.

About the ministry

Towering mountains, imposing mesas, and deep lakes make up the land of the Jicarilla Apache Nation reservation. This land in Dulce, New Mexico, is home to nearly 2,800 members of the Jicarilla Apache Nation, many of whom are plagued by alcohol and substance abuse, broken families and trauma, domestic violence, and a poor school system.

In a place where the RCA has had mission presence for more than 100 years, Brad Kautz serves as pastor for Jicarilla Apache Reformed Church (JARC). His focus is primarily pastoral ministry, which includes weekly worship, Sunday school, a community prayer meeting, youth ministry, and visits to residents of nursing homes, jails, and detox centers. Through these means, he brings hope through the gospel of Jesus Christ.
